Advanced Canvas: Designing for Clarity Wednesday, August 21

1:30PM - 3:00PM | Online via Teams

Presented by the FCDC and IT Services

We will discuss how to efficiently build modules that provide clear and accessible pathways for student learning, provide meaningful feedback to students on the platform, and use the tools in Canvas to better understand where students need support.

Introduction to Student Accessibility Services (SAS) and Academic Accommodations

Thursday, August 22

1:00PM - 2:00PM | Online via Teams

Presented by Student Accessibility Services

This introductory workshop aims to summarize the essential processes and responsibilities associated with providing academic accommodations and supports to students with disabilities at OCAD U. We will also discuss strategies to meaningfully set up your courses with accessibility in mind to improve the learning experience and reduce the need for academic accommodations.

Setting Your Course Up for Success in the Era of Generative AI (GAI) Thursday, August 22

2:30PM - 4:00PM | Online via Teams

Presented by the Writing & Learning Centre

This workshop (re)introduces the concept of critical AI literacy and low-resource strategies for embedding consideration of GAI throughout course materials. Together, we'll consider how co-creation of critical AI literacy might effectively develop students' ability to make intentional and ethical decisions and when and how to use (or not use) GAI in their writing and making.

What's New in IT and Ask Us Anything

Friday, August 23

11:00AM - 12:00PM | Online via Teams
